

THE NAMGYAL FAMILY, BHUTAN

Country/State
Population: 2,370,723
Life expectancy (F/M): 42.4/40.2
National obesity rate (F/M): 13.7%/10.3%
Annual health care expenditure per capita: $10
Population living below poverty line: 31.7%

Total cost of food for one week: $34.09
Namsi, 13, and Namgyal, 12 (far right), with grandmother Galden, 8, and their youngest family in the proper room of their stone village house in the Himalayas. From left, standing: Sonam Karmas, 10, with Sonam, 10, Tashi Wangchuk, 7, and Sonam, 12, daughter, Chato Namgyal, 14, son, Chato Galden, 12, son, from left, seated: Namsi and Namgyal's daughter, Chato, 8, and Sonam, 12, with Chato, 10, and Chato, 16, Sonam's daughter. Cooking method: wood-fired clay stove.
*Total includes the cost of homegrown items, worth $20.96

Shinghey, Bhutan
HUNGRY PLANET
WHAT THE WORLD EATS

THE ABOUBAKAR FAMILY, CHAD

Country/State
Population: 8,342,201
Life expectancy (F/M): 49.3/46.1
National obesity rate (F/M): 1.3%/0.3%
Daily caloric intake per capita (kcal): 2114
Population living below poverty line: 80.9%

Total cost of food for one week: $25.40
The Aboubakar family lives in a tent in the border region of Chad and Sudan. They feed across the border between Sudan and Chad with thousands of their countrymen to escape drought in Sudan and are now housed and fed by the United Nations and non-governmental agencies. Digna Ibrahim, 40, feeds her daughter, 10, and her other children on left to right: Aisha, 12, Maron, 8, Youssef, 6, and Aboubakar, 16. Cooking method: wood fire.
*Total includes the market value of food items, worth $24.37

Beidjing, Chad
HUNGRY PLANET
WHAT THE WORLD EATS

THE CUI FAMILY, CHINA

Country/State
Population: 1,313,972,713
Life expectancy (F/M): 74.5/75.9
National obesity rate (F/M): 1.9%/1.6%
Daily caloric intake per capita (kcal): 2961
Population living below poverty line: 18.9%

Total cost of food for one week: $59.22
The Cui family is the living room of their village home in Beijing Province, China. From left, standing: Cui Xian, 31, daughter, 10, and her young generation. Cui Wu, 71, Huiwang's mother, Wu Xianglin, 61, and father, Cui Lianbo, 58, sit at left. Cooking method: gas burner, coal stove. Favorite foods: Cui Xian's: Li Jiao, sea-vegetables, Wu Xianglin's: anything, Cui Wu's: anything.
*Total includes the cost of homegrown items, worth $1.96

Wellaiwu, China
HUNGRY PLANET
WHAT THE WORLD EATS

THE AYME FAMILY, ECUADOR

Country/State
Population: 13,547,510
Life expectancy (F/M): 76.4/75.8
National obesity rate (F/M): 14.4%/11.1%
Daily caloric intake per capita (kcal): 2764
Population living below poverty line: 41.6%

Total cost of food for one week: $24.75
The Ayemes, in their remote kitchen house in the central Andes. They farm to get most of their food and sell their sheep to buy the rest. They raise all the sheep from series: Emmeleida Ayame Guevara, 27, and Graciela Ayame, 33, sit with their children left to right: Lina, 15, Natalia, 8, Mariana, 11, daughter, 4, Mariana, 10, Graciela's sister, Lina, 10, and Graciela's sister, Lina, 10. Cooking method: wood fire.
*Total includes the cost of homegrown items, worth $3.20

Tingo, Ecuador
HUNGRY PLANET
WHAT THE WORLD EATS

THE MELANDER FAMILY, GERMANY

Country/State
Population: 82,024,009
Life expectancy (F/M): 81.6/75.6
National obesity rate (F/M): 19.2%/19.7%
Daily caloric intake per capita (kcal): 3366
Annual health care expenditure per capita: $3204

Total cost of food for one week: $200.07
The Melander family lives in a small town in northern Germany. They walk to the weekly outdoor market for produce, cheese, and meat, and buy the rest of their food from a supermarket. Cooking method: electric stove, microwave, and outdoor BBQ grill. Favorite foods: deep-fried potatoes with onions, ham, and beef. From left: Melander's wife, Kjetil, 36, pizza, vegetable, sausage—anything that's fresh and good.
*Total includes the cost of homegrown items, worth $4.12

Bargheide, Germany
HUNGRY PLANET
WHAT THE WORLD EATS

THE MENDOZA FAMILY, GUATEMALA

Country/State
Population: 12,293,545
Life expectancy (F/M): 71.2/67.7
National obesity rate (F/M): 29.5%/16.9%
Daily caloric intake per capita (kcal): 2219
Population living below poverty line: 58.2%

Total cost of food for one week: $79.82
The Mendoza family lives in a small town in Guatemala. They farm to get most of their food and sell their sheep to buy the rest. They raise all the sheep from series: Emmeleida Ayame Guevara, 27, and Graciela Ayame, 33, sit with their children left to right: Lina, 15, Natalia, 8, Mariana, 11, daughter, 4, Mariana, 10, Graciela's sister, Lina, 10, and Graciela's sister, Lina, 10. Cooking method: wood fire.
*Total includes the cost of homegrown items, worth $4.12

Todos Santos, Guatemala
HUNGRY PLANET
WHAT THE WORLD EATS

